Words from Fr Brendan Clover

Dear friends,

There is a poem by Rowan Williams and it is called 'Advent Calendar'. It is a haunting piece: austere, deep, searching, suffused with wintry aches and longings we recognise as peculiar to this season. The language is as spare as naked trees, tough as hardened earth. It is intended to make us shiver. Its dense texture needs patience to grasp its complexity; its flinty Anglo-Saxon words are unsoftened by soothing Latin or French cadences. The four stanzas each elaborate a different simile: 'he will come like' the fall of the leaf, like winter's frost, like darkness following a late afternoon flash of sunlight, like the cry of night-time. It stands in a long tradition of northern European poetry in which the cold short days around the winter solstice echo our wintry spirits when our light burns low.

The point about imagery is that we shouldn't explain it, for that would be to explain it away, reduce poetry to prose. So I simply want to meditate on each of the stanzas in turn and allow them to help us enter more deeply into this season and its meanings. And because this is an Advent Calendar, I imagine its stanzas taking us through the four weeks of the season up to the point where you open those double-doors and glimpse what it has all been leading up to.

He will come like last leaf's fall.

One night when the November wind

Has flayed the trees to bone, and earth

Wakes choking on the mould,

The soft shroud's folding.

Week one of the calendar suggests a violent side to Advent. This kind of dying is not going gently into that good night. It is a sudden judgment visited at the turning of the year when beautiful autumn is abruptly cut short by the wind tearing through the trees stripping them bare of their golden canopies so that only their naked skeletons rear up to the sky. He will come like that. It recalls the daring apocalyptic language in which the gospels speak of the last days,

.../cont

Every GOOD and PERFECT gift
is from above.

cont/...

when the heavens are torn apart and the stars fall from the sky like autumn leaves, or the parables where the kingdom of God comes unexpectedly like a thief bursting in at night. Experience tells us that sometimes he does come to us like the god who rides upon the storm, who in the imagery of the psalm shakes the wilderness and strips the forests bare. Judgment is one of the ancient themes of Advent: last judgment, judgment now and judgment then as we reap the consequences of what we were and did, the endless compromises and refusals whose undertow over a lifetime drags us away from the pull of mercy and grace. When the kingdom of God comes, it presents us with the truth of who and what we are. This is why like the trees, our spirits need to be stripped bare (to quote a poem by Lawrence Binyon) if the sap is to rise again and we are to come back to life. With my love and prayers,
Fr Brendan

HEY NOAH ... HAVE YOU SEEN THE MOSQUITOS?

Calling all bakers! If you would like to provide a cake(s) for one of our regular Celebration Sundays, please add your name to the list at the back of Church. Alternatively, if you would like to celebrate a special occasion (perhaps an anniversary, birthday or exam success) please put your name against the relevant date and bring along your cake (it doesn't have to be homemade) on the day. Any questions, please speak to Sarah or Debra.

Could you represent St Johns on the council of Churches Together in Clevedon?

There are 12 Clevedon Churches in CtiC, and together we are able to achieve things which would not be possible alone. For instance it was Churches Together which set up the Food Bank, and before that Clevedon Care, although both are now independent charities. Currently the biggest project is the chaplains. You may see them in the town centre or in the Hill Road area, wearing their grey sweatshirts. They are members of local churches who have been trained to offer support to local businesses and market stall holders. We also support Changing Lives and YMCA, and refugees in Clevedon.

CtiC organises united events such as the Good Friday service in Queens Square.

The council meets 6 times a year, when representatives from all the member churches get together to share what is happening in the town and discuss the way forward. It is always interesting and sometimes inspirational to meet representatives from the other churches and hear what they are doing. I have been representing St Johns for a number of years, and have loved doing it, but find I can no longer manage the meetings.

If you feel this could be for you, speak to Gary, Nicola or Fr. Brendan or Judith.

St. John's 100 Club

The 100 club is an easy way you can help raise money for St. Johns. It only costs £12 per year (equivalent to £1 / month) and you will be entered into a drawer every month with a chance to win a prize.

Over the last 15 years the 100 club, has raised over £12,000 for the church and has paid out almost £8,000 in prizes.

Providing we have more than 80* people join we will pay out £40 in prizes each month and any profit over £510 will be paid to the Church but there is no upper limit, the more the merrier and the more money that will be raised for the church.

The three prizes are:

- 1st Prize - £25
- 2nd Prize - £10
- 3rd Prize - £5

**If there are less than 80 members, there will be no 3rd prize.*

If you join the Club before 18 December 2023, your name will go into our additional 'Special Christmas Draw' with a chance to win £30 for 2024 members only.

We would like to thank Arlene for all the hard work she has put into setting up and running the 100 club over the last 15 year. Without her dedication, the church would have been at least £12,000 poorer. Arlene has now decided it is time to hand over the reins, so please don't let all her hard work go to waste and join today.

Please contact any of the organisers to enquire about joining, to get your application form and to be allocated a number, or two. Talk to any of us in church or by emailing using one of the email addresses below.

Remember, Christmas is just round the corner so why not buy your family and friends a number as an early Christmas present.
